NOTICE.

ON account of my continued ill health, I have concluded, as soon as practicable, to retire from the dry goods trade, I now offer my entire stock for sale to any merchant wishing to engage in the business, and will from the 1st day of July sell my goods FOR CASH, until disposed of, which will enable me to offer to the retail trade some special bargains.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to me will please call and settle at once, as I am anxious to square my books. Respectfully,

Extremes Meet.

Reformations come up from the bottom;
demoralization and degenerations go down from the top. Health, life and vitality, sparkle in the eye, glow on the cheek and manifest themselves in the blood that bounds through the veins and silvery locks, palsied limbs, dimness of vision indicate the approach of death. The giant old oak that has stood the tempest of ages, succumbs for the want of vitality, and evinces the fact by the decay at the top.

So in the social or political world. Virtue is the basis of all. This is the vitalizing principle. If it fails to circulate through all the veins as to permeate every avenue of society, then demoralization and decay will be the result. As the mortal body must die just so far as the blood fails to circulate, so the body politic becomes paralyzed and dead, just so far as virtue, with all its means, are rejected. By a law that governs all created things, when a member suffers, all the body suffers. The dying limbs affects the whole tree. The felon on the finger affects the whole body.
The social fabric, whether of church or state, is not exempt from the operation of this law:

"Like people like priest." The child imitates the vices as readily, or more so, as the virtues of the parent. The great mass of mankind have scarcely any higher standard of virtue, of right and wrong, than the enactment of civil law. This is manifest when we look at the law of nsury in the different states. What is wrong in one state is pronounced not wrong in another. So men are educated to regard human law as the standard, and only standard, by which to govern their acts. Hence, law-makers who believe and act on that line "frame mischief by law," and "if the foundations be removed what can the righteous do?" Once adopt this doctrine and elevate the standard, and the foundations are gone. We, as a nation ran on this line in regard to African slavery until we came to ruin's brink. Can we afford to do so again? Every law enacted was in the interest of the slaveholder. Stronger and stronger were the chains riveted on the limbs of the victims, in utter disregard of virtue or right, until at last the chains were snapped asunder by the sword of vengeance. The system was demoralizing to the whites as to the black. Demoralization was the result from top to bottom.

Shall we not learn a lesson? Our government is now run in the interest of another class of slaveholders. They "toil not, nor do they spin;" they own the government, dictate its laws, and gather in, by legislative enactments the labor of their fellow-countrymen. Injustice, oppression and robbery are in such bold relief on much of our national legislation that it is now looked for as a matter of course. No surprise is expressed now-a-days at the most hienous act of legislation. The public conscience is demoralized.

It is expected that every officer of the government will come out with a full pocket, as a matter of course. When whisky frauds, De Golyer swindles and star route thievery happen to crop out, and an investigation is called for, that investigation will be stopped as soon as it threatens to implicate some one in high office, or just as soon as it has made all the capital possible for the party. The demoralization is working its way down. The masses see how they have been duped, cheated, swindled and sold out, and the tendency is to spread the spiritual road. Injustice, oppression and robbery are enacted into laws,
by which millionaires are made to grow up like mushrooms in a night, and no wonder that our young men catch the spirit, and abandon the old way of honestly plodding along in pursuit of wealth, but adopt the way of the lords of the land
—the Goulds—and gather in fortunes by stock gambling and legalized stealing. As the toiling slave in the cotton field knew the master was living in luxury and idleness, from the fruits of his unrequited labor, and felt himself justified in appropriating enough from the potato field and chicken roost to satisfy the demands of appetite, so the dandy clerk or the toiling operative in the factory feels justified in dividing the profits if he can without detection.

Where is the one officer of the government that goes out of office poor? Seeing that it is honorable to be rich, and gives great power and influence to men, no matter how obtained, how natural that Young America should imbibe the spirit and follow the example of those who,
on a salary of a few thousands a year,
secure and lay by hundreds of thousands?
All the great combinations formed for the purpose of amassing wealth, the bulls and bears of trade have no conscience but are based on the "cussedness" of avarice, and are sending down through every avenue of society the deadly virus of dishonesty.
The worst men are not in the penitentiary.
The men who make corners of pork and bread, and compel the hungry, starving poor to pay unreasonable prices or starve, just because they have money and can do it, deserve to be in a prison by themselves so as not to demoralize our common convicts. But if government ignores the great crime, we will and must have an increasing crop of little crim's. If laws are made to shield the big criminals, it is hardly fair to punish the little ones if we could.
Extremes will meet. If we permit the one to exist we will have the other.

REV. D. OGLESBY.

RICHVIEW, ILL.

About Marrying a Late Lamented Wife's Sister.

Detroit Free Press.

The chances are that the prohibition only enhances the alleged charms of the younger sister. Moreover, the main objection to the abolition of the law is its Mosaic and scriptural sanctity, not its practical embarrassments. Even if these were what the English paper describes them, they might be overcome by a law forbidding a wife to have her pretty sister live with her or attend her during her last illness.

Brown's Mistake.

Dwight Brown, living near Erie, Pa., is a poor but very devout man. Mr.
Brown, being in destitute circumstances, knelt down with his wife, and the two prayed for help from on high. On the following day, as Mr. Brown was walking along the highway, he found a "wallet" containing $200 in greenbacks.
Just ahead of him was John Crowell, whom the prisoner must have known had dropped it, but Brown, believing this to be an answer to the earnest sup-plications of himself and wife, took the money home, and there was great rejoicing in the family, followed by full meals for his wife and children. The next day clothing for the half-naked family was purchased, and Mr. and Mrs.
Brown earnestly believed they had found the royal road to wealth. But a little later an officer came with a warrant and arrested the head of the household on a charge of larceny. At the trial a frank statement of the whole case was made by the lawyer who kindly offered to defend Brown. He recited the ignorance of the prisoner, which was accompanied with a devout belief that God had answered his prayers in the manner described. Some of the money had been spent as described, but the rest had been turned over to Crowell, and besides this,
all the household effects of the poor man had been put into the hands of the officers to be sold to make up the deficiency. The Judge, in passing sentence, said he understood the prisoner to be a hard-working man, and that the temptation had come to him in a peculiar manner. He would err, if at all, on the side of justice, and so he sentenced Brown to pay a fine of one dollar and to be confined in jail one day. The case is a peculiar one, and excited a good deal of interest.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

THURSDAY EVE., JULY 20, 1882.

TERMS:—The EVENING BULLETIN is published daily, and served free of postage at 6 cents per week; 25 cents per month; 75 cents per three months; $1.50 per six months, and $3 per year, payable in advance.

THE EVENING BULLETIN HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION IN THIS CITY, CHESTER AND ABERDEEN, OHIO, THAN ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN MARYSVILLE.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce JAMES P. HARBESEN, of Fleming county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democracy in convention assembled.

We are authorized to announce Col. J. SMITH HURT, of Bath County, as a candidate for Congress in the 9th Congressional District at the next November election. Subject to the action of the democratic party.

A New Departure.

There has scarcely been a political canvass in this county during the past five years which has not called forth from radicals and half-breed sympathizers the most confident predictions of irretrievable disaster for the "disorganized" Democracy. Now it must be owned that the Radicals have at times omitted no effort to make their predictions good. They have cunningly fed dissensions; fomented disturbances; appealed to the cupidity of the corrupt; played upon the vanity of fools; preached the most seducing doctrines of political morality; ventilated the most plausible projects of political reformation and, having carefully prepared the ground for a reactionary movement against the "corrupt" Democratic regime,—have brought out some fine old gentleman of irreproachable personal antecedents, and bugled to the half-breeds for a last grand rally to the standard of morality and reform.

We all know the invariable result. When the Democracy is on its mettle; when its blood is up; when it is bold, vigilant, active, and alert; when it enforces a rigid discipline and applies the lash with impartial hand to skulkers in the ranks and to traitors in high places, it is no common adversary that can successfully confront this magnificent organization in the field and snatch victory from its standards and the spoils of office from its tenacious grasp.

And yet, gentlemen voters, we are confidently assured that a handful of truculent half-breeds have resolved to do this under the leadership of John Kirk!

THE Democratic State Convention of Ohio will be held at Columbus to-day.

JUDGE JOHN IRELAND, a Kentuckian, will probably be the Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas.

In the House of Representatives, Monday the stormiest scene of the session occurred, participated in by Hewitt and Robeson. Personal abuse was bandied back and forth till nothing vile was left to say.

A BERLIN dispatch says: "The arrival of Baron Von Schloezer, Ambassador to the Papal Court, is generally regarded as equivalent to a temporary rupture of negotiations between Germany and the Vatican."

THE secretary of the treasury has called for the resignation of Superintendent Davis, of the New Orleans mint, for inefficiency. The secretary has also called for the resignation of Geo. B. N. Tower, supervising steamboat inspector of the Second New York district.

The Judge Advocate General has submitted to the Secretary of War his report on the petition for the release of Sergeant Mason, on the ground that he is illegally confined. The case will not be reported to the President until after the return of Secretary Lincoln. Secretary Chandler is acting Secretary of War.

NEWS BREVITIES.

J. Murphy, a miner, was crushed to death in the Sewill mines, near Charleston, W. Va.

Henry Smith, a wealthy German citizen of Xenia, has been arrested for receiving stolen goods.

Incessant rains have inflicted so much injury on Irish crops that another crisis is threatened on that account.

Lewis H. Oliver, of Fort Wayne, Ind., has been arrested for the killing of Hugh Cooper, of Mt. Vernon, at that place, last Thursday.

Col. Alfred Shorter, who is said to be the wealthiest man in Northern Georgia, died at Rome, Ga., Tuesday, aged seventy-nine years.

Hailstones fell at Beattyville, Kansas, large enough to break car windows. At St. Joseph, Mo., the same storm caused a loss of $50,000.

Folger & Co., hardware merchants at New Orleans, have failed, and filed suit against their creditors. Assets, $80,000; liabilities, $91,000.

The secretary of the treasury decided to affirm the assessment of duties of two and one-half cents per pound on axle-forgings imported to Toledo, O.

A two-year-old child of Nelvin Smith, a wealthy Montreal merchant, has been abducted, and a ransom of $50,000 demanded on penalty of the child's life.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carlson, of Wyoming, O., attempted to commit suicide by hanging, and was cut down before life was extinct. Cause, domestic trouble.

The funeral of Harry Stoy, of Lafayette, Ind., who told his love to hold his coat for a remembrance, and then threw himself under a locomotive, took place on Tuesday.

The body of Ferdinand Winter, of Cincinnati, who was supposed to have committed suicide at Huntington, has been exhumed, and submitted to medical tests, foul play being suspected.

The body of Earl Crawford and Balcarres, stolen some time ago from the family vault in Abbotshire, has been found in the grounds of the family estate. A man suspected of complicity in the theft has been arrested.

"Tug" Wilson deposited $12,700 in a New York bank as his share of the winnings of Monday night's fight. He has challenged Sullivan to fight him for $2,500 a side within four months for the championship of the world.

In Pittsman Valley, New Mexico, Henry Jansen and Charles Bonestein, Swedes, and Wm. Warton, fought about a blanket. The Swedes cut Warton nearly to pieces. He, in turn, killed Jansen and mortally wounded Bonestein.

General Grant has been giving his opinion upon the eastern question to a Record reporter. He sides with England, and believes an English protectorate would help develop the resources of the country and improve the condition of the people.

A band of fifty Revolutionists, under the leadership of Emiliano Daniel and Alejo Zepeda, captured the town of Toualo, Chiapas, Mexico, on Tuesday. An attack was afterwards made on the Revolutionists by Captain Santa Ana Gauzman and several of their number were killed.

On Thursday last, Dr. Keys was released from an insane asylum at St. Joe, Mo., where he had been confined two years, after having killed Dr. Roberts, at Millville. The next day Keys went to Millville, against the advice of his friends, where the son of the murdered Roberts saw him and killed him with a pistol shot.

The plucky stand made by Cincinnati brokers, who have for three days taken pork and lard at each decline, until they have turned the movement their way, has checked the panic in these staples, and the Chicago market was considerably braced up Tuesday. There was a steady decline in wheat at Chicago all day, however.

Another day and night have passed without any material change in the situation at Alexandria. The English continue to guard their lines carefully, and the fires are nearly all extinguished. The army of Arabi Pasha is said to consist of a little more than six thousand men surrounded by starving women and children. In the English Parliament and in the French Chambers the political phase of the war was energetically discussed. The close co-operation of the two powers seems likely to ensue. The French Cabinet adopted a resolution based on three conditions, viz: Turkey's reply to the identical note of the Powers inviting the Porte to send troops to Egypt; decision of the Conference, and the sanction of Parliament. Subject to these conditions the two Governments are now entirely agreed in regard to the terms upon which their forces undertake to restore order in Egypt. In the House of Commons Sir Charles Dilke, Under Foreign Secretary, said that the identical note addressed by the Powers to the Porte was still unanswered. It is reported that Arabi Pasha is preparing to move. Disappointment and indignation are most keen at the great blunder of allowing the favorable moment for ending the revolt at a stroke to slip by, while the troops are detained inactively by orders from home.

THE evidence taken on the investigation of the Scioto disaster has strengthened the case against Keller, pilot of the Scioto.

We learn that His Honor, Mayor January, has received an invitation from the Blue Licks, Battle Monument Association to attend the celebration of the Centennial Anniversary of the battle of Blue Licks, at the Blue Lick Springs, on the 19th of August. Our Mayor, is a worthy descendant of the gallant old patriot Andrew McConnell, who fell on that disastrous day.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mr. Chris. Altmeyer has removed with his family to Vanceburg.

Capt. L. T. Cole, of Springdale, dropped in to see the BULLETIN to-day.

Mr. Albert Collias, of Cincinnati, is in the city, the guest of the family of Mrs. J. Conrad.

A musical entertainment will be given to-night at the residence of Mr. Louis Paul in the west end.

Mr. John J. Wedding returned home Tuesday, after a pleasant visit to relatives at Cincinnati and Newport.

Miss Ella Hierley, of Covington, arrived in Maysville, yesterday, to attend the funeral of her father on Friday.

W. S. Frank is visiting his brother, Jos. Frank, near Elizaville, and will be absent from the city until Monday, 24th inst.

The many friends of Elder Joseph Frank will be pained to hear of the serious sickness of his oldest daughter, at their home near Elizaville.

Mrs. Frank Wedemeier, of Cincinnati, with her two interesting sons, Harry and Freddie, are the guests of the family of Mr. J. H. Wedding, of East Maysville.

Dr. A. G. Browning, one of the candidates for congress in this district, was in Maysville to-day. He has been over a considerable part of the district and is much encouraged with his prospects.

Katy Did and Katy Didn't.

MAYSVILLE, KY., July 19, 1882.

Editor Bulletin: The Rev. E. L. Sanders says in the Sunday Morning Call, that the colored preacher's congregation numbered eighty; if so, something less than nine out of ten were the Sabbath school children, that remained to go to preaching. Including six men, three were members and three were not, after advertising in the Republican, DAILY BULLETIN and Sunday Morning Call, which said "let everybody attend."

Serious Accident.

Thomas Sadler, son Mr. W. C. Sadler, was badly hurt at the depot this morning while standing near the machine used for unloading tobacco hogsheads from the cars. He was struck by it in the face, cutting a severe gash and knocking out six teeth. His left arm was broken and he was much bruised beside in other parts of the body.

THE Flemingsburg Democrat says:

The report comes to us that Allie Keal, who escaped from the penitentiary some weeks since, is still roaming at large in this county. On Saturday evening last, we are told, he waited on the roadside until his wife should return from church, when he stepped out on the road and grabbing her horse by the bridle, asked her to dismount and go with him. This she refused to do, and other parties coming up behind them, he was compelled to leave her. We also understand he has threatened vengeance on those who prosecuted him. If these are facts we think Mr. Keal should be hunted up.

AMONG those captured by the Indians at the battle of the Blue Licks in 1782 was Lewis Roe, a native of Harrodsburg. We think he died in Mercer county. Cannot some of his descendants in that county, or the adjoining one of Boyle, furnish a sketch published on his death by Robert McAfee. It will be a valuable addition to the Blue Lick history.

Mrs. LIZZIE E. STUART, daughter of the late Robert Armstrong, of Fleming county, died at Fort Scott, Kansas, on the 12th inst., of inflammatory rheumatism. The remains were removed to Flemingsburg and interred there. She leaves one child a boy nine years old.

MR. W. H. HARRISON, of Flemingsburg, has bought the Episcopal church building in that place and will convert it into a carriage factory. The Democrat wishes him success and "thinks it will pay." From this it appears the church didn't pay.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Courier-Journal writing from Frankfort, of the Barnes conversions says:

At the Episcopal church confirmation, services were conducted by Bishop T. U. Dudley, and the accessions to the church in addition to those previously mentioned numbered nearly thirty. Among the number were Col. Stoddard Johnston and Major Henry T. Stanton, of the Yeoman. It is a pleasing coincidence that Col. Johnston and Major Stanton, both of the Yeoman, should join hands in the same church after their recently expressed diversity of opinion. The former wrote against certain features in the Barnes theory, and the latter not only wrote in advocacy, but likewise accepted it in a confession made to Bro. Barnes.

A Card.

Editor Bulletin: Permit me through your columns to correct a report that is being circulated by my political enemies to the effect that I have withdrawn from the race for Jailer. Such is not the fact and the parties who circulated the report knew it to be false, and did it only to injure me in the coming August election. I wish it distinctly understood that I am candidate for Jailer and shall be until the polls close on the day of the election. Notwithstanding the assertions made to the contrary, I consider myself as good a democrat as any in the county, and by democratic votes I expect to be elected. Trusting that you will give this card a place in your paper in order that my friends may know of my determination to stick. I am, very respectfully,

JAMES HENDRIXSON,

Down They Go.

Meaning the prices of job printing. The following low rates will hereafter rule at the BULLETIN Job Printing Rooms. They are the lowest ever offered in this city by any printing establishment. The reduction does not mean careless printing and inferior stock, but on the contrary first-class press-work and composition and the best quality of paper:

Bill Heads per ream.....	$5 00
Two Reams.....	9 00
Letter Heads per ream.....	4 50
Packet Note Heads per ream.....	3 00
Commercial Note Heads per ream.....	2 75
Envelopes per thousand.....	3 00
Visiting Cards fifty.....	25c

And other printing at proportionately low prices.

COUNTY POINTS.

GAS POINT.

John W. Jett sold his crop of tobacco to D. Fraze at 13 and 14 cents.

Our farmers are through stacking, and some of them are threshing their wheat.

Wheat is selling for $1 in Germantown.

J. W. Thomas, of Plum Run Creek, dropped in to see us last week, and informed us that he and Ike Jones (his partner) have the boss tobacco crop of the county. They have eleven acres mostly all new land, and Bill says it will do to top soon.

Died on the morning of the 17th inst., Miss Flora Griffith, of near Pleasant View.

The oat crop is being harvested. The crop never was better.

Messrs. Norris, Williams and Ellis, tobacco dealers, are visiting the Queen City, this week.

Almost the entire grass seed crop in this section has been sold to a New York firm at $2 per bushel.

We imagine that Uncle Jake Williams contemplates selling out and boarding, as he has within the past week sold his little horse Billy, and his bridle cow, 3d Duchess of Avondale.

The steam threshers are in full blast, sometimes threshing as many ten acres of wheat per day. Let the good work go on.

Miss Crane, a handsome young lady of Ripley, Ohio, is visiting Mrs. Perrin, in company with Mrs. Porter Norris, formerly of this place. Watch your heart, Dr. Dick.

The spirit of ancient Rome's most distinguished orator and statesman, having by some means recrossed the stygian stream, has assumed the form of a milk-white steed and may now be seen careering through our streets by day and by night, giving free exhibitions of his terribly convincing oratory, much to the astonishment and delight (?) of our citizens. Friends, Romans, countrymen, apply a mustard plaster to Cicer's lungs and "bring in another horse."

OBSERVE.

From Another Correspondent.

Rev. Mr. Tiller has been in our village since Sunday last securing subscriptions for the building of his new church. He told that he had succeeded in raising a sufficient amount except $150.

Protracted meeting will begin at Hebron next Sunday, July 23. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. Morrison of Concord.

NOW AND THEN.

THE traveling correspondent of the Courier-Journal writes up the candidates for Congress in this District as follows:

Keene F. Prichard, ex-State Senator from this district and a lawyer of Cynthiabur, a good man, and a power with the rank and file, but without a war record. By the way, when I saw him he had just got back from a visit of several weeks in Washington and had witnessed the hanging of Guiteau, which he did not protest against in the least.

Another candidate is T. H. Painter, a young lawyer of Greenup, not too old to wait awhile and not too young to be one of the keenest politicians in the district. He has no war record.

John M. Rice, of Louisa is another. He has been to Congress twice, is a lawyer and business man, and knows the ropes. He has no war record.

J. P. Harbeson, of Flemingsburg, an ex-Police Judge of Louisville and a Major in the Federal army, a lawyer and an active live man claims a big share of attention from his section. The Major resigned his position in the army, as did many other Kentuckians still in the field of politics, when the emancipation proclamation was issued.

Dr. A. G. Browning, of Mt. Carmel, Fleming County, a practicing physician, has also the Congressional bee in his bonnet. Somebody will be stung by it if they fool around the doctor thinking he has no show. No war record reported.

Jos. M. Alexander, another Mt. Carmel man, has come forward, also, with desire to go to Washington awhile. He has many friends and is a worker. No war record.

Col. J. S. Hurt, of Owingsville, is prominently mentioned—more so than any other, probably, in the western end of the district—and with his record as a private citizen, lawyer and as a United States soldier in the Mexican war and the rebellion, he is going to be a hard man for any opposition to go against.

S. Clark Bascom, the present member of the Legislature from Bath, is also spoken of, but his modesty has prevented him from taking any decided steps yet. Clark has bushels of friends.

John D. Young, of Bath county, an ex-member of Congress, is a mentioned candidate and may develop into a dark horse.

"What did you say?"

"Vat did I say? I told him to come to hell."

Remarkable Relics.

From Nature.

On Tuesday evening, Mr. Keane exhibited at the Anthropological Institute, on behalf of the finder, Mr. M. S. Valentine, of Richmond, Virginia, some very remarkable stone objects recently discovered by that archaeologist in the neighborhood of Mount Pisgah, North Carolina. In the course of his remarks Mr. Keane explained that these were merely a few typical specimens selected from an extensive collection of over two thousand articles, partly in stone and partly in micaceous clay found in this upland region, between the Alleghany and Blue Mountains, during the years 1879-82. The material of the stone objects is almost exclusively steatite or soap-stone, which abounds in the district, and which might almost seem to have been sculptured with metal instruments, so perfect is the workmanship. The objects themselves are absolutely of a unique type, consisting partly of human and animal figures, either in the round or in various degrees of relief, partly of household utensils, such as cups, mugs, basins, dishes, and the like, partly of purely fancy and other miscellaneous articles, illustrating the tastes, usages and culture of the unknown people by whom they have been executed. Collectively, they present, Mr. Keane maintains, a unique school of art developed at some remote period in a region where the presence of civilized men had not hitherto been even suspected. The human type, which presents great uniformity, while still by no means conventional, is distinctly non-Indian, according to Mr. Keane, but whether Mongolic or Caucasie it would at present be premature to decide. All are represented as fully clothed, not in the hairy blanket of the Red Man, but in a close-fitting well-made dress somewhat after the modern "united garment" fashion. Some are seated in arm chairs exactly resembling those known as Ingester chairs while others are mounted on the animals, which they had domesticated. These animals, themselves are stated to be marvelously executed. Some of them represent the bear, the prairie dog, and other quadrupeds, as well as birds of North America. But others seem to represent types of the Old World, such as the two humped Baktrian camel, the rhinoceros, hippopotamus, and European dog. There are also some specimens obviously executed since the appearance of the white man, as shown by the horse with his rider, firearms, shoes, &c. The material of all these has a much fresher look than the others, and is of much ruder workmanship, as if they were the work of the present race of Indians. These races are undoubtedly of the pure Indian type, Mr. Keane stated, and recognized themselves as intruders in this region, where they had certainly been preceded by more civilized peoples, such as the mound builders, and others whom they had traditions and who they had extirpated long before the arrival of the Europeans. Amongst these extinct people were the Allegs or Allegewis, whose name survives in the "Allegheny Mountains." These Allegewis are said to have been a different race from the Indian, and it is possible, Mr. Keane thought, that in their new homes in the Allegheny uplands they may have continued or developed the culture of which we have met remarkable evidence in these stone objects. It is evident, however, that before any conclusions can be built on this interesting find, the conditions under which it was found must be carefully sifted by archaeological specialists.

"MOTHER," said little Ned, one morning, after having fallen out of bed, "I think I know why I fell out of bed last night. It was because I slept too near where I got in." Musing a little while, as if in doubt whether he had given the right explanation, added: "No, that wasn't the reason; it was because I slept too near where I fell out."

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER.

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours.

P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It's a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me its will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a very deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO. Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.
